PRAXI

A low-angle, upward-looking photograph of a complex glass and steel architectural structure, likely a modern building's interior or a large atrium. The structure consists of a grid of dark blue steel beams forming a series of triangles and squares, with large glass panels filling the spaces. The sky is visible through the glass, showing a clear blue color with some light clouds. The lighting is bright, creating strong highlights and shadows on the metal and glass surfaces.
